"What's Happened to The Light"

WE never miss the water until the well runs dry.

A faithful lamp, doing duty for many months in cellar or hallway, gives up the ghost. You flip the switch and nothing results, involuntarily exclaim, "What's happened to the light?"

Suppose, however, that the trouble goes farther than the lamp—that a flood wipes out the power station, or a severe storm blows down the wires.

What then?

Is industry crippled for lack of electrical service? Are the doors of mercantile establishments locked? Are streets left in darkness?
NO!

Interconnection, the linking of one system with another, is for just such emergencies.
Immediately power is again available. Interconnection means the protection of service against interruption.

It is just like having two or even three wells to draw from.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME

The junior choir of United Church held their corn supper on Friday, September 19th. Twenty-five girls present and had a delightful time. After supper the election of officers for the new year took place, and Sadie McCartney was chosen president and Clara Gold, secretary. Speeches were made by the retiring president, Ruby Collier, and by the new officers. The prizes for attendance and good behaviour for last year were then given, those receiving them being Viola Caspell, Lenore McLaggan, Mildred Ulrich and Ruth Peterson.

A NARROW ESCAPE

On Friday evening, Mrs. Ben Mensinger and two children had an accident which might easily have proved fatal—their car coming into collision with a freight train at the railway crossing near Mr. W. E. Walker's residence.

Through the prompt action of Mr. Art Vaughn, medical and other assistance was promptly available and, although the car was a total wreck, the passengers were got out with very little injury and at the time of writing, were doing well in the Vulcan Municipal Hospital.

Mrs. Mensinger is being congratulated on her providential escape.

MANY SEE AIRSHIPS

Friday morning pupils of Vulcan schools were taken out west to view the passing of the aeroplanes from Calgary to Lethbridge in connection with the much advertised international tour, and very many others besides the pupils were also present. From the spectators' point of view the spectacle was disappointing as the planes passed over one at a time and followed various courses.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Sunday, September 28—Regular morning worship service and communion 10:30 a.m.; message "An Old Soldier's Advice." Bible school at 11:30 (Rally Day will be October 19 and our aim is 200). Christian Endeavor 7:00 p.m. Evening evangelistic service 8:00; sermon "Isaac and His Father's Wells." Midweek prayer meeting, Wednesday 8:30. All these services are well attended and growing, but there is room for you and a hearty welcome. "Go out into the highways and hedges and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled."

Judging from the strange assortment of winged creatures wafted up on the tide at the Big Lake last Monday morning, visibility must have been poor about 4 a.m.

RALLY-DAY SERVICES AT UNITED CHURCH

Sunday first, September 28th, is Rally Day when special services will be held in the United Church. Sunday school and morning services will be united, when we ask the parents of the children to come with them at 11 o'clock. The combined service will be held in the church. At 11 a.m. the theme of the service will be "Oh Come Let Us Worship." There will be a Rally Day program including a "Picture Story" by Florence Gold; a short address by Rev. J. N. Brunton and appropriate songs and music by junior choir. This service will be in charge of Principal Irvin.

At the evening service 7:30, there will be a United Rally of all the churches' agencies. The Rev. Brunton will address young and old upon "The Law of Compound Interest." There will be special singing by the senior choir; anthem "Sing Unto God." Ladies' quartette, solo by Miss Helen Symington, and by special request Mr. Weale will sing again the solo he sang last Sunday evening.

We invite all who can come and make this the best Rally Day known in our church. See church ad. on another page.

Red Cross 3 o'clock; Mayview 2:30. The regular quarterly meeting of the official board will be held at the close of the evening service.

HENS SLOWING UP

Egg production throughout Canada has now reached the point where supplies are just about equal to consumptive demand, reports the Dominion Egg and Poultry Review. This is a development of the past few days and there are now indications of consumptive demand overtaking supplies of really fresh extras and firsts. The natural result of this condition is an advance in prices and already on the larger consuming markets values on the two higher grades are working up.

This condition has been most pronounced at Montreal. Most of the carlot shipments from the prairies and British Columbia are going to that city and cars containing a liberal proportion of extra and firsts can command much better figures than a week ago. This advance in carlot prices amounts to, from one to two cents in the case of cars from the prairie provinces and as high as four cents in British Columbia cars, the difference in the two, of course being due to the larger percentage of the higher grades from the coast province.

Milo Oddfellows Have Erected Fine Hall

The old Co-op. hall is no more. Those who have lived for a dozen years or more in this community are familiar with its history. It was built early in 1918 in response to a need for adequate meeting place. The Queenstown and Pioneer schools had, for many years, proved too small for the U.F.A. meetings, other social gatherings and dances. At that time the old Queenstown local, the parent of the present Kirkdale and Milo locals had more than a hundred members. The need for a hall was acute.

The Queenstown U.F.A. Co-operative Association was organized on March 11, 1916 and very soon thereafter a lumber yard was established at Cluny. This proved very successful for several years as the members were in the throes of building and fencing following a period of good crops and prices. The prime movers for the construction of a hall were the late Geo. E. McCamber, the late J. Gordon Stuart, John Hambeck, R. H. Shore and Norman Hall. As the Co-operative was a chartered company, what better way could be found than to use the association to finance the construction of the hall.

It was completed early in June. The opening night was a gala event the music was supplied by a Vulcan orchestra and they gave us everything they had. Vulcan, Champion, Gleichen, Cluny and Bassano were all well represented. The crowd was enthusiastic and everyone had a good time. That fall on Friday, September 27 to be exact, was given the memorable box supper and dance, when over thirteen hundred dollars was raised to be distributed among the local boys at the front. Money orders for $37.50 were mailed by the committee and later were acknowledged as a very useful remembrance.

During the following summer offers were received for the lumber yard. As competition was becoming keen, business falling off, due to drought, and financial difficulties were arising in connection with payment of the hall, the lumber yard was sold. With the proceeds the hall debt was considerably reduced, but the Board of Directors had to give generously of their time for six years before it was liquidated.

The hall never was a financial success. Much as this was to be regretted it was offset by the fact that on its social and community sides it was an unqualified success. During the 'flu epidemic in the spring of 1919 the directors tendered the use of the hall to the municipality and it was used by Dr. Knowles as an isolation hospital for all the 'flu cases in the district. When one Near the entrance are check rooms ticket booth and the stairway to the basement. Above these is a spacious balcony capable of seating fifty people. At the opposite end of the hall is the stage and two dressing rooms. The floor is of hardwood and is being laid in the approved dance floor style. The full basement will contain the dining room, serving and club rooms. The entire committee are eagerly looking forward to the opening night and feel that they have one of the finest halls to be found in Western Canada.

The opening event will be the two-day school fair to be held on Thursday and Friday, September 25th and 26th with the following schools entered: Mayview, Berrywater, Union Jack, Eastway, Willard, Queenstown, Gilkin, Pioneer, Rocky Butte, Corbie Hill and Milo. The secretary reports that all schools are working very hard on their exhibits and the harvest work over there should be a very large attendance.

On Thursday all exhibits, except livestock will be judged. On Friday a full programme of sports and stage events will be held. The floats in the parade are to represent "Present Day Alberta" for which a $10.00 prize will be given. At present the secretaries of the schools are canvassing their districts for funds. There will be a dance on Friday evening but the opening dance will not be held until October 10th by which time the hall will be completely finished.

Consider the poor threshing gangs when the bombardment of the shooting season first broke. Suppose you had gone to Zeecho Slovakia as a harvest hand. Suppose you were quietly hoisting sheaves in the dewy dawn, when suddenly from every bush there burst the roar of guns and round you pattered a shower of shot. Would you calmly dismiss it as just another native custom, or would you figure it as bad news, and ankle out pretty quick?

HOCKEY NEWS

"Well, we are still awaiting the decision of the 'powers that be' as to whether or not we will be admitted into the 'holy of holies.' Meantime the boys are thinking, talking, and prophesying hockey, morning, noon and night. For instance we were in a certain restaurant the other night, and heard an aspirant for the right wing position betting an aspirant for the goaltender's job, that he would score with the first shot he took at him. That's the spirit boys—everyone figuring just how good they are going to be this season.

We do not seem to have anyone rushing to offer us jobs for the boys who will represent Vulcan this year on the ice. Why? It is pretty hard to have to write this column without any definite news to give the eager fans, but just have patience we will have plenty to say within the next week or so.

Wouldn't it be a grand and glorious feeling to know we were in the league and that High River would be our first victims? Oh boy, just imagine!

Time is slipping on and it won't be long now when the boys will be starting their training. Keep on boosting hockey and we will get there.

VULCAN REPRESENTED HEALTH UNIT MEETING

Although the meeting called for September 17th at High River, to consider the operation of a Model Health Unit in this district, did not proceed as far in organization as some had expected, yet it cleared the way to definite action.

As a matter of fact, two meetings were held, through confusion in the announced hour, one at 2 p.m. and one at 8 p.m.

Representatives present from High River, Vulcan, Nanton, Okotoks, Roy, M.D. (158), Riley (159), Sheep Creek (190), Dinton (189), Blackie and Cayley.

As qualified to speak for their respective governing bodies, delegates from High River, Vulcan, Nanton, Okotoks, Royal, Riley, Dinton and Cayley, expressed themselves generally in favor of organization. Blackie citizens, though not speaking for the town officially, were of the opinion that sentiment there was favorable. Sheep Creek representatives did not commit themselves. Stockland M.D. (191) was unrepresented as were Turner Valley, and Black Diamond. Local Improvement District 160, though not represented, it was judged would approve.

The next step in procedure will come from the department, which will issue to the Municipal and Town Councils a standard form on which they will state whether they will accept or reject the proposed scheme.

Following the receipt by the government of these answered forms, if this district is in favor of the establishment of a Model Health Unit, a qualified physician chosen either by the Local Governing Board or the Department, will be given three or four months specialized training under Rockefeller Foundation auspices.

About April 1, 1931, the scheme would begin to function.

The meetings were presided over by Mayor Young with Dr. MacGougan of Edmonton present to furnish explanation and answer questions.

The total cost of operation is placed at $10,000, the proportion which the area as represented would take, being $2500.00. A motion was carried after discussion that the tax be based on population.

The $10,000 would maintain the following service: medical health officer, $3500; nurse, $1500; sanitary inspector, $1500; technician $1000; and $2500 for travelling expenses, preventive serums, etc.

Many questions were asked which brought information that this scheme does not provide isolation hospitals; nor include treatment of indigents.

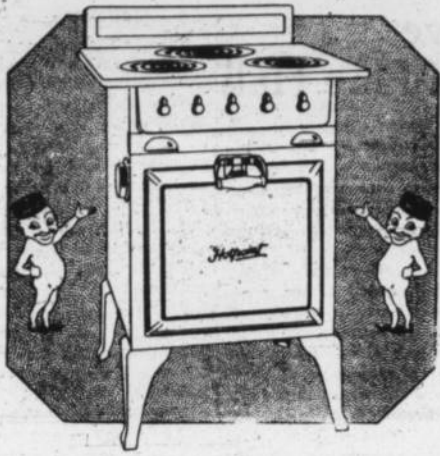

It however furnishes information on the condition of health particularly of children (and adults if desired), and paves the way to a new conception of disease prevention.

Though this is an initial effort in Alberta, it has been operating for several years most successfully in other provinces.

Russia owns over 27 per cent of the world's total supply of growing timber. Since 1914 the revenue from timber has increased 400 per cent, owing to more economic methods of work.

Labor Commissioner Smitten of Alberta says that the 1930 harvest has been gathered entirely by Alberta manpower. Although a few may have drifted in from B.C. but they did so entirely on their own responsibility, there being no record of any special railway fares asked for or granted.

LIQUOR PROBLEM

The liquor traffic is a knotty problem. Total prohibition was a dismal failure because of three reasons: first, lack of effective legislation; second, lack of properly qualified enforcement officers; third, an adverse attitude of the general public towards tee-totalism. To return to prohibition at this stage would merely duplicate here the present deplorable conditions pertaining in the United States. At the same time, conditions are far from being satisfactory as they are. We cannot stand still. The forward march toward temperance must go on. This is but one path to follow and that is through education.

The Highland Distilleries of Britain have announced a reduction of 25 per cent. in whisky manufacture this year. Liquor drinking is declining, and incidentally, jails are closing for lack of occupants. This satisfactory condition can be attributed in a large part to education of the masses on the evils of the liquor habit. Thirty years ago temperance societies and "Bands of Hope" waged a relentless educational campaign among the working classes. The seeds then sown in youthful minds are now bringing forth good fruit. Thirty years may seem a long time to wait for results, but it is a small span in the life of John Barleycorn.

Inasmuch as the provincial government is the chief beneficiary of the liquor drinking Albertans, and is also their mainstay when later years find these same people indigent, the onus of educating the masses with a view to curtailing their appetites, rests upon the government. If, say, one per cent. of the annual profits derived from the sale of liquor was allocated to anti-liquor propaganda, it would yield dividends in years to come that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.—Hanna Herald.

HOME COMFORT

With Modern Facilities Country Homes Most Beautiful

For generations it has been a tradition of the farm that when circumstances grew easy, the head of the house and his wife, would retire to the city where household facilities were convenient, and where life would not be never-ending toil for the housekeeper.

In our own day, until very recently it has frequently been the case that as soon as farm people could afford it, they would escape to the city for a few months of every year, there to revel in the joys of modern house-keeping. All too often, the country home was a place to escape from, because of the lack of facilities that would ensure a little leisure and enjoyment.

These conditions are steadily changing, with the steady invasion of electricity in the country. Round about, are hundreds of homes which can rival any city, residence from the standpoint of facilities. Very shortly will be removed any necessity for leaving the farm to enjoy leisure and comfort. Leisure and comfort are instead, being brought to the farm.

Last Saturday's Calgary Herald presents a picture of a farm home under modern conditions. While few of all these labor-savers are as yet realized by many women, they are at least attainable in time. It is a picture which attracts all housewives.

"There was, for instance, the kitchen. The kitchen is always the centre of activity in the farm home and this one was a thing of joy. A beautiful cream and green electric range with an insulated oven and time and temperature controls, was the first thing our eye lit upon. A commodious electric refrigerator stood in one corner of the room, purring contentedly to itself. One of those general utility kitchen appliances which do everything from mash potatoes and freeze ice cream to grind meat and sharpen knives, occupied a prominent position in another corner. An electric egg-beater stood on the kitchen cabinet shelf. There was a big porcelain sink with a built-in dish-washer in it. The whole kitchen was lighted by a large overhead fixture, and there were auxiliary lights over the sink and the stove.

In the living room the general lighting was accomplished by a five light ceiling fixture and a number of portable lamps, placed about by the piano, the desk and the various pieces furnished concentrated light. A power radio stood ready to deliver entertainment and my hostess told me that at her neighbor's a couple of miles down the road, they had bought an electric phonograph. In each room there was an outlet planned for the plugging in of the vacuum cleaner or the small hand cleanerette.

In the cellar there was a fully equipped laundry, with two set tubs, a washing machine and an ironing board with an electric flat iron. The machine was used for the big jobs and the regular family washings—the flatiron for odd jobs of pressing and so on. The ultimate in efficiency was a drying cabinet in which the clothes could be hung to dry in bad weather or when the lady on the farm was in a hurry.

PROSPERITY IS?

Bert Huffman in the Market Examiner, gives his theory of prosperity—the contented mind. He says:

"After all, prosperity is but a state of mind. It does not mean so much per week or month, nor so much income a year. It does not really mean anything definite.

"People with a contented mind in a pleasant environment making an honest living and keeping out of debt, no matter where their home may be, are the truly prosperous people of the earth.

"Prosperity is not in racing over the earth chasing fairy tales of immense wealth won overnight. Prosperity is not a fabulous fortune today, vanished to-morrow. Prosperity which is solid and lasting is that state of mind which holds humanity stable, active, home-loving and enduring in one spot upon the earth.

"The United States is credited with great prosperity yet 86 per cent. of its people have incomes of less than $2,000 per year, and 1 per cent. of its population owns 59 per cent. of the wealth. And rumbling with a most formidable menace to-day are the voices of 5,000,000 idle men.

"If you can invite and hold a contented state of mind in your humble surroundings in Western Canada, you are in the midst of the most solid, splendid, enduring prosperity registered anywhere on the face of the earth today."

TRUE SEED

Major Strange, prominent member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, emphasized to a party of visiting British farmers the virtues of Canadian wheat.

"Canadian wheat is conceded to have certain factors contained by no other wheat in the world to the same degree," said Major Strange, "and these factors, qualities of protein and gluten, have the property of giving to a loaf of bread, that is mainly made from a mixture of soft wheats, spring and strength, palatability and quality which the loaf would not have without an admixture of Canadian wheat." Millers the world over prize these qualities highly he declared, and it is absolutely certain that every loaf of white bread contains some percentage of Canadian wheat.

"This high quality is not the result, as commonly supposed, of the soil and climate of Canada," said the speaker, "but is the result of the variety of wheat used." Use of the wrong variety, he declared, would produce poor wheat, even in Canada. The Canadian variety which particularly showed this quality was Red Fife wheat, said Major Strange and was brought over from Scotland to Ontario by William Fife in 1842. It is one of the parents of Marquis wheat, the standard of Canada.

TARIFF CHANGE

Premier Bennett's pronouncements on the tariff, include 130 tariff increases. An extensive list of upward revisions is announced and the tariff structure will be revised at the next regular session. Butter, meats, farm implements, textiles, gasoline are all affected. It is the aim of the government that the wants of Canadian people should be satisfied in so far as is possible by Canadian producers.

Farm implement duties range up to 25 per cent. Many classes included in changes are: milking machines, harrows, harvesters, reapers, ploughs, mowers, etc.

Duty on butter is 8 cents under British preference and 14 cents general.

Provision is made for 2½ cents duty on gasoline.

The new dumping penalty is raised from 15 to 50 per cent.

Premier Bennett states that there is definite and positive assurance from manufacturers that there will be no increase in price to the consumers.

LOW PRICES PAST

A Higher Level for Cattle Forecast in Next Few Months

H. P. Kennedy, Montreal cattle dealer, predicts a steady improvement in cattle marketing conditions, after a visit to Chicago and other cattle centres.

Kennedy advised farmers, in view of the low prices for young, unfinished cattle, to hold on to them and grain feed them until the beginning of the year, when, he was convinced, demand and prices would be such as to justify such a course.

After quoting statistics showing that there is a decided shortage of cattle in the Dominion compared with 1929 figures, Mr. Kennedy stated that, in view of that fact and the low prices for unfinished cattle and for grain, it stood to reason that farmers should hold on to their young stock.

As for farmers who have grain, but no cattle, Kennedy expressed himself as follows: "I believe that any good, reliable farmer who has the grain but not the cattle, would be well advised to borrow 100 per cent of the present cost of young stock and grain feed them for the market."

"We should cater for the trade in Great Britain," he stated, "by sending only the most suitable grades of livestock. From the month of January to the end of June, grain-fed cattle are always in better demand in Great Britain than during the fall months."

As showing the demand overseas for finished cattle, Mr. Kennedy stated that during the past few days he had received inquiries from a country on the continent for 3,000 head, and other inquiries for lots of several hundred head.

THEY LOSE - WE WIN

Conditions in U. S. May Create Better Conditions in Canada

It is stated that the total supply of wheat in United States is not sufficient to offset the deficit of feed grains.

This presents two alternatives either of which should have bearing on Canada. If United States meets her need famine by slaughtering livestock, that will create in the States a demand and market for Canadian food animals over the next few years, which will bring action regardless of tariff.

On the other hand if American farmers feed their livestock on wheat this winter, a very important quota of the present abnormal wheat surplus will be used up, and the other wheat producers of the world will be brought just so much closer to normal times, because one most powerful competitor removed.

American pastures are the worst for fifty years. The hay crop is short and many farmers are already feeding livestock.

The feed supply is shorter than in any years since 1911, the present supply being 68 per cent. of the average.

It is possible that these deplorable conditions may in the nature of things, create a brighter outlook for Canada.

The question of the week is whether Forke does or does not belong to the Wheat Pool.

With wheat dropping ever lower down the scale and with threshers bills, food and clothing all to be paid for, these messages of hope for the farmer are not very sustaining.

SPORT PARADISE

Canada Attracts Its Thousands, in Search of Abundant Game Areas

Notwithstanding the fact that serious inroads have been made on many species of game native to North America through the advance of settlement and development, there still remains in the vast wooded and unsettled portions of Canada an abundance of wild life. Thanks to wise legislative measures and strict enforcement of laws these valuable resources have been protected and conserved and game is well distributed throughout practically every province from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are noted for their moose and deer but in addition there is to be found a goodly supply of bear, wildcat and rabbit, also duck, woodcock and other upland and shore birds.

The provinces of Quebec and Ontario are the largest in the Dominion and they also attract the largest number of hunters.

The prairie sections of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are famous for their duck and wild fowl shooting, while the northern sections are well stocked with moose, mule deer, Virginia deer, caribou, bear and lesser game.

The western or mountainous portion of Alberta and the entire province of British Columbia offer perhaps a greater variety of game than any other section of America. Here will be found moose, three species of deer (mule, Virginia, or white-tailed, and Columbia blacktailed); several species of caribou; grizzly, brown and black bear; cougar or mountain goat; as well as a large variety of birds, waterfowl, and small game.

The sportsmen who would blaze new trails and see new scenes are more and more turning to the Yukon.

Tariff changes are resulting in the employment of 250 additional workers at some of the eastern textile plants.

FRYING PAN TO FIRE

U. S. Efforts to Purchase Thriving Island of Miquelon All in Vain

Canada's co-operation with United States in prohibiting granting of liquor clearances has by no means solved Uncle Sam's liquor problems. He now has France to deal with and France is not so sympathetically disposed toward such minor maladies as prohibition enforcement.

The rum runner who used to make free with the great lakes, has transferred his operations to the island of Miquelon, south of Newfoundland. Miquelon is a French possession and is now an important commercial centre where the wines of France and liquors of Scotland may be purchased and sold legitimately. Although United States has proposed to purchase Miquelon, the French government is not attentive to such a proposal. Outside of other considerations the inhabitants of Miquelon would resent any change of flag and would make a fuss if the island were sold.

It is said that Miquelon is now booming and that the boat builders of Nova Scotia are doing a rushing business in building small, fast coast al boats, presumably for the "trade."

PRICE CYCLES

From Royal Bank Review of the Month of September

The period from 1892 to 1920 is one which affords a number of good illustrations as to the relative influence of general trend of price level and cycle. Throughout this period there was a consistent upward trend in prices. Within this time interval there were ten price cycles and each successive cyclical peak tended to be exceeded in height by the subsequent peak after an intervening recession.

The length of these cycles varied between thirty and fifty months; the average length was thirty-nine months. The average advance in the price of the individual commodities during the successive periods of revival and prosperity amounted to about 17 per cent. of the maximum price obtained at the moment of the succeeding peak and the average decline from these successive peaks amounted to 12 per cent.

Judging by the course of events in other apparently similar cycles of the past, and giving due weight to the effect of the present world-wide policy of cheap money, it is reasonable to suppose that the present average of prices has about reached the bottom of the cyclical movement.

HEALTHY & HAPPY

The balance of the experienced opinion at the British Medical Convention in Winnipeg advised common sense in the consideration of health. It decried fads and fancies of the moment and upheld the ordinary, reasonable methods of living, with less of the undue anxiety which many are apt to bestow upon their children and themselves.

The sum and substance of the doctors' prescriptions in this respect is that every day we will do something to keep the doctor away if we will: "Eat moderately; drink moderately; exercise only if and when we enjoy it; and be moderate even in moderation; lead a sensible life most of the time, but don't be afraid to indulge in a little nonsense now and then; eat for pleasure as well as sustenance; don't worry; work, and be not occupied with affliction."

As an exchange has it, the best physicians still are Dr. Diet, Dr. Quiet and Dr. Merry Man.

Alberta birds are in strong demand at the World's Poultry Congress, London. They have had buyers from England, Scotland and Switzerland. Powl from the Canadian exhibit have gone to Bulgaria, Ireland and other European places.
